

Food allergy prevention project – focus group sessions

The National Allergy Strategy will be hosting focus (discussion) group sessions in Perth and Sydney in February 2018.

Who are we looking for? We invite you to register your interest to participate if you:

- have a young infant (up to 6 months old) and have a family history of allergy; or
- have a child with food allergy and are pregnant or are planning to have another child.

Why do it? To help us develop education resources to help prevent the development of food allergies.

How long will it take? 1.5 hours.

Who are we? The National Allergy Strategy. Our aim is to improve how allergies are managed in Australia.

Participants will receive a retail voucher in thanks for their time and input.
